WHAT IS ASIAN AMERICAN AND PACIFIC ISLANDER HERITAGE MONTH?

Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month is recognized during the month of May to celebrate the significant contributions and influences Asian Americans and Pacific Islander Americans have had on the history and culture of the United States.

The month of May was chosen to commemorate the immigration of the first Japanese immigrants to the United States on May 7, 1843, and to mark the anniversary of the completion of the transcontinental railroad on May 10, 1869. The majority of the workers who laid the tracks were Chinese immigrants.

The resources in this toolkit highlight the generations of Asian and Pacific Islander Americans who have made and continue to make a significant impact on America's history.

Vice President Kamala Harris, daughter of an Indian-American mother

When Joe Biden won the Presidency, his vice presidential running mate Kamala Harris made history. By winning the 2020 election, she became both the first woman and the first person of color to be elected vice president of the United States. She is the daughter of two immigrant academics: an Indian-American mother and a father from Jamaica. You can read more about her on WhiteHouse.gov.
